

i have registered to be on a no-call list, to avoid the flood of telemarketing calls each evening. Changing the law to allow companies who I have an existing relationship with to call me, would defeat the purpose of the original law. If I want to do more business with an existing supplier, I will initiate the contact. Please don't let my evenings be destroyed by telemarketers again.